Dear Yngling Friends

Digital or in print you are reading the Yngling Magazine, for Yngling sailors and their friends – worldwide. The Yngling Magazine has a long tradition in the class, and has with few exceptions, been produced since the very beginning. Use it to make plans for future seasons, check out what's happening in other countries, or pass it along to your friends to convince them to come and play with us on the Yngling race courses around the world.

The core of the class is in the National Class Associations. They are the ones organising races, recruiting sailors, organising the loved traditional regattas or coming up with new innovations and ideas for the future. A big thanks to all class officials around the world. You are doing a great job, keep it up!

The IYA is a support for all National Associations and works on the things that concern all nations. For example the rules and international regattas like the World Championships.

There are many good programs and ideas on how to develop the class. To benefit all nations this information has been collected for the last few years and put together in a booklet "Yngling for the future". Ask your class officers for this document or find it at our website. This is a living and developing document and if you have tried something that worked well, let us know!

The World Championship needs to develop to stay attractive. This years worlds in Norway will be the first where we have a slightly shorter schedule and where the charter boat program will be up and running in full swing. The charter boat program is there to make it easier for overseas teams to sail in the worlds. It will help all overseas teams to have a charter boat at the worlds venue. For youth teams (U23) the charter boats will be subsidised. Overseas teams will be given priority, but all teams can apply for a charter boat at future worlds.

Good luck with your Yngling sailing and I look forward to seeing you on the race course.

Mattias Dahlström
IYA President

The Norwegian Yngling society has experienced an increased interest for the class since 2012. There are two significant Yngling environments in Norway. Askøy Yacht Club outside Bergen on the westcoast and Trondhjem Yacht Club in the middle of the country. The potential for the class is big, due to many boats all over the nation. It's interesting to see how competitive an old Yngling can be. This is a big advantage for the class and makes it easy to join in.

In 2014, for the first time for many years, we managed to run a national series with the total of 23 active teams on several locations. This was a big step for us and the preparation for next year is already done. After a couple of years without a valid Norwegian Championship, this year we managed to crown a champion. The champion was team White Russian with Svein Andre Hol as helmsman, Eivind Mellingen and Fabian Bruvik.

Three teams sailed the worlds in Travemunde in 2014. This was team White Russian, team Bravo Zulu and team Guffen. The race became a great experience for the Norwegian teams. Sailing in big waves is not a thing we do everyday in Norway. FUN!

Looking forward, of course the Open Yngling World Championship is the highlight of the 2015 season. The Yngling society is very happy to welcome Yngling sailors to the cradle of the Yngling and hope to see as many as possible of you in July.

The Norwegian Yngling Association want to recruit young sailors to the class. We already have one youth team, but hope to participate with several more teams at this year worlds.

This year has been another year of change and experimentation for the Australian Yngling fleet. We have been trying different approaches to reinvigorate the fleet and get more boats out sailing. We're pleased to see that a number of new crews have formed and are enjoying getting out sailing regularly. Competition at the top end of the fleet continues to be very tight with excellent racing to be had in all of our regattas.

Once again, the mini regatta format has been the most popular racing format for our sailors. Three windward-leeward races in an afternoon, sailing on beautiful Sydney Harbour is a pretty hard package to beat.

The Sydney Harbour Regatta is always a spectacular event with many fleets racing across all parts of the harbour. We had eight boats competing in racing across both days. Hamish Jarrett in Miss Pibb won the series this year, but not without some close competition from Karyn Gojnych in Evie.

In March graduates from the RSYS LOTS (Ladies of the Sea) start sailing program joined Yngling sailors to participate in the Manly Yacht Club Helly Hansen Women's Challenge. The regatta attracted a record 55 entries across a range of classes and boat sizes – the only requirement a lady on the helm. Some of the LOTS ladies had never sailed on an Yngling before, had never competed in a race before, had never helmed in a race, or had ever sailed under spinnaker. The end of our regular sailing season saw a flurry of activity to help a team of Australian youth sailors prepare for the 2014 Yngling World Championship. With a bit of prompting from our Vice-president, Karyn Gojnych, the team of Ben Fraser, Theron Sims and Nick Rozenauers set about doing some serious training. Both Karyn, Hamish Jarrett and their crews provided valuable competition and advice during these training sessions and most of the fleet came out for one weekend to provide some intensive race training.

Ben, Theron and Nick had a great time over in Travemunde and with some very credible performances, coming third in the European Youth Cup and twenty-ninth in the worlds. They were accompanied by a number of their parents and we all heard about the fantastic time that they had. I think they've been won over on the joys of international competition.

Winter is usually a fairly quiet time in the Australian Yngling calendar. A few skippers enter some of the winter series races held by the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron and the Sydney Amateur Sailing Club, but this season the Royal Prince Alfred Yacht Club hosted a mid-winter regatta for one design classes. Four Ynglings made the trip up for the regatta and we were treated to a weekend of affordable and enjoyable racing.

Racing was held on the Pittwater, the first natural harbour north of Sydney Harbour. It has a lot less traffic than Sydney Harbour and so we have fewer issues with needing to keep the boats moving through the waves, but there are plenty of wind shifts that can make for some challenging tactical racing.

After Winter, Spring quickly comes around and the start of a new sailing season for us. The King Haakon Cup was scheduled across three of our Saturday mini regattas and saw a strong turnout this year of nine boats. Hamish Jarrett took first place in Miss Pibb, but the real excitement was in the next few places with strong competition between Robyn Grosvenor on Soria, Gary Pearce in Blackadder and Ellis Todres in Debacle. In the end, Robin managed to get a five point lead over Gary and there was just one point separating Gary from Ellis in fourth place.

For the Nationals, we returned to the Royal Prince Alfred Yacht Club and the Pittwater for four days of intense racing between Christmas and New Year. Unlike last year where we missed one of the four days due to unsuitable weather, this year we were able to sail every day. The competition was incredibly tight, with good duels at all levels of the fleet.

Karyn Gojnich in Evie managed to stay just a few points ahead of Hamish Jarrett in Miss Pibb for the first two days, but by day three Hamish had managed to level the scores and was ahead on countback. On the final day Karyn managed to sneak ahead again to win the regatta with Hamish coming in second.

There were close battles throughout the fleet, with the battle for third and fourth between Robyn Grosvenor in Soria and Gary Pearce in Blackadder. Robyn managed to take third place by the end of the Regatta. The Royal Prince Alfred Yacht Club showed us great hospitality over the duration of the regatta and we all enjoyed being back there again.

Once again we have a Tuesday evening twilight series during summer with a focus on women helms. This has been well received by those participating in it and is a great way to finish off a day at work.

This has been the second season that the association has used GPS trackers to record our races for later play back and study. After a lot of teething issues and a lot of back and forth with the provider we've managed to get these working quite well this season. If you are interested in checking these out, see our tracking home page at <http://tacktracker.com/cloud/home/AIYA>

SKI YNGLING

The Regatta-Opening in Austria started in March with “Ski-Yngling”. This event helped the Austrian Yngling sailors to survive the winter season. In a special ranking the results of the Ski-Yngling are combined with the results of the Wolfgangsee Regatta.

AUSTRIAN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP 2014

For the first time the races for this championship took place on the river Danube. The Segelbootclub Krems (SCKr) organised this championship. Twenty teams (three of them came from Switzerland) were fighting for the victory. Registration and measurement started on Thursday. Friday and Saturday were raceless days – all sailors were waiting for wind. Nevertheless, on Sunday there was strong wind blowing from the west. It was possible to do all necessary races. Because of the strong current it was very difficult to get around the course, especially for those sailors who came to the river Danube for the first time. The experts stripped off and the best of the best got their medals: 1st Rudi Mayr/Philippe Boustani, 2nd Karl Holzner/Andrea Holzner-Wurnig, 3rd Jörg Moser/Johannes Hattwich (3 Teams from UYC Wolfgangsee).

WORD CHAMPIONSHIP 2016 IN UYC WOLFGANGSEE

Together with the Austrian Yngling Class Association the Union Yacht Club Wolfgangsee will organise the Yngling World Championship 2016.

The Union Yacht Club Wolfgangsee in St. Gilgen, Austria, founded in 1901, has a long tradition. From the beginning the UYC Wg has been the home of very successful Austrian sailors, who achieved numerous international awards.

Since 1960 sailors from the UYC Wg have regularly taken part in the Olympic Games. Hubert Raudaschl won two Olympic silver medals (Finn dinghy and Starboat) and in 2000 Christoph Sieber got the Olympic gold medal in the Mistral class.

At every Yngling World Championship there has been Yngling sailors from this club. Rudi Mayr, one of the best sailors for centuries, has been Yngling World Champion in the year 2000 and winner of the Bronze Medal in 1992.

In 2014 we had two official regattas in Denmark, the Easter Regatta with about 8 participating boats and the National Danish Championship with 16 boats participating. Furthermore, in the fall in November we held 5 training events attended by between 8 and 12 crews.

One Danish crew participated in the European Championship on Lake Garda, with a 6th place as result. At the World Championship two Danish boats occupied 4th and 5th place. The best Danish crew in 2015 has been Frederik Lange, Konrad Florian and Mikkel Nørlykke who won our National Championship and also showed the best Danish results at the European and World Championships. In addition Jørgen Ring participated in the Norwegian Championship, where he came 2nd and he was also in Holland at the Hein Ruyten Trophy.

A lot of small regattas in the Yngling are being held at local sailing clubs and at several places you can still gather 10 boats for an evening regatta. Moreover local championships are being held at the sailing clubs.

Unfortunately, we have very little support from the Danish Sailing Association. They wish the Yngling to be phased out as the youth boat, although there are still around 50 boats in Denmark owned and used by local sailing clubs, both for young sailors and older sailors. The Danish Yngling Class Association (DYK) has had this problem for the last 20 years, but it will be stronger formulated from the Danish Sailing Association for each year that passes. Unfortunately, the Danish Sailing Association are not able to find any suitable boat to replace the Yngling in the youth work, which means that fewer young people will continue sailing after they have left the Optimist. DYK is trying to fight back which is very difficult when the Danish Sailing Association does not believe that the boat type is contemporary and modern. Having said that, the Yngling isn't the only Class in this situation.

DYK wishes to continue to educate sailors, Youth as well as Seniors and furthermore to offer help to sailors and Clubs in Denmark, who wish to get started in the Yngling.

We wish Yngling-sailors around the World a fun and happy 2015.

The Yngling Club Holland works hard to make sure every regatta and training has some Dutch ‘gezelligheid’ (socializing). We do this by offering accommodation during events, choosing locations that offer an evening program within walking distance and always including dinner in the entry fee. This is convenient for the sailors and keeps the Yngling spirit alive! It makes our class unique and attracts new young sailors, which in turn increases the competition and the level of sailing.

REGATTA OVERVIEW 2014

The old town of Stavoren was the home of the Open Dutch Nationals on the weekend of 5-7 September, attracting 24 Ynglings hoping for some spectacular open water racing. Unfortunately lack of wind changed it into hoping for any race at all. Whoever has been on the IJsselmeer at the end of summer, knows that the absence of wind will be replaced by little flies... Luckily 4 races could be completed, which was enough to hand the title of Dutch Champions to the defending winners from last year: Tom, Mark and Jeldau.

Next year: Medemblik, 18-20 September 2015.

Entry fee: 120 euros.

Big success of the season was again the still growing “Hein Ruyten Trophy”. 37 Yngling teams slept, ate, partied AND managed to make it to the start in Langweer. The combination of cheap boat rent, free basic training on Friday, and a social program to meet everyone – including “Speed dating for teammates” – attracted many new sailors to meet our class.

The short race format appealed to the sailors and made sure 9 exciting races could be completed in 2 days. New this year was a top mark in which spectators could stand and watch. There is a movie of this yearly event which can be found on Youtube searching for “Hein Ruyten Trofee 2014”. Special thanks to Jørgen Ring (DEN) for coming over and participating in this event. We hope even more international teams will find their way to this event next year!

23-25 October 2015. Entry fee: 150 euros all-inclusive.

TRAINING PROGRAM

Our professional class trainer did not only train the motivated Dutch teams during the winter, but also coached during Garda and the worlds in Travemunde! It helped many teams reach their goals. In 2015 we offer 2 days of training before and 4 days of race coaching during the Europeans in Garda for all international teams as well. It will cost 300 euros per team. We hope to exchange knowledge this way and become faster together!

Actually all training weekends during winter and spring are open for international teams! Interested? Visit the English part of our website: www.yngling.nl then click on training and English. Or sign up by sending an email to: trainingen@yngling.nl

BELOW: THE START OF THE DUTCH NATIONALS

Besides the usual regatta activities and social events, the highlight of the season was the Yngling World Championship, which took place in July on the Baltic sea, close to the city of Travemünde.

With the aim to find the "Yngling World Champion 2014", the German DYKV had the honour to organise the corresponding races. This top event has been organised within the so-called "Travemünder Woche", which is one of the most important sailing events in Germany and which celebrated its 125th Anniversary.

Wind and weather, accommodation and social events, were all optimal!

The competition started on the 18th of July with the "Pre-worlds" and the "European Youth Championship".

We are very proud that our youth team from the "Flensburger Sailing Club" won the European Youth Championship. It was their first active season with the Yngling.

Then from the 21st to 26th of July, one day of recreation included, 40 teams from Australia, Austria, Denmark, The Netherlands, Germany, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland competed in the 2014 World Championship.

We think the winners were all the active sailors who participated in these races; and also all people, spectators included, who watched and contributed to the organisation and technical realisation of the event. We thank all those who helped to realise the event, the organisers, sponsors and volunteers. Above all, we thank the sailors from around the world who have visited us.

On a national level we had 12 regattas which complied with the regulations for ranking. In total 38 teams participated.

Especially in Berlin, our German capital, surrounded by numerous lakes, our beautiful boat in the last two years has found more attention and an increasing participation of Ynglings in yardstick regattas.

Additionally the German Yngling Class Association DYKV presented its services and sailing activities for the first time at the "Boot and Fun" in Berlin.

All in all in 2014 we watched a growing acceptance of our sport, even in this "Post Olympic Yngling time!"

Being back at the helm of the Swedish Association is very nice.

To be honest we need lots of work to get the Yngling back to what it was in the 90s.

But we are positive about the future and right now the two areas with most Ynglings is in the absolute South and in Stockholm.

My goal and also challenge to my neighbour countries (Denmark and Norway) :- is to get a Masterclass within the normal Worlds.

I see a lot of my "old" competitive friends from the 80s and 90s following their kids around in all these modern and fast boats with no hull and a lot of sails.

I want to get them to bring their kids with them into the Yngling, and get some real racing going.

My old club boat SWE 28, Pink Panther is now in my possession again and is going through a nice little face lift.

I hope to see you all soon on the Yngling courses.

PO Ekstrand, Chairman SYF

CROSSING THE STARTING LINE 40 YEARS LATER IN AN OLD AND NOBLE YNGLING

During the Yngling World Championship in Brunnen 2013 I made a promise – to participate in next year's worlds in Travemunde as skipper on my old Yngling SWE 2!

With one year for preparation I assumed it possible to bring myself and my old Yngling, built in 1969 as one of the first of its class, up to standard. The "to-do" list grew and grew; the trailer, the boat itself, measurement form, fittings, standing and running rigging, sails, new tacktick, safety equipment, personal gear... everything had to be checked down to the last detail.

And not to forget, the crew! How to find two competent sailors willing to spend two weeks sailing with me in Travemunde during the best summer month? And besides, how to find time and opportunity to train the crew without any other Ynglings around for practice and sparring?

One year later however, on July 17, 2014 an elegant equipage consisting of a fine Volvo towing a well-polished SWE 2 (named Gubbling) professionally lashed to its elegant white aluminium trailer, now with a modernised rig and new "old" sails. A highly motivated crew consisting of Marina Backer Skaar, Per Skaar, Martin Lundwall and their coach (Lars H. Backer) equipped with all tools, material and experience required to face any eventuality. All of us looking forward to be warmly welcomed by the Yngling community, and to get answers to our burning questions; How will we manage? How will the old boat perform? Will we have a chance to join the field and provide serious competition?

After some few, but hard training days (the pre-worlds) with three races a day except for one day when we were 'blown in' due to excessive winds, the real Yngling World Championship started on Tuesday July 22. However the strong winds continued day after day for the whole week. Each day offered a 6-7 Beaufort wind from NNW that was raising 2.5 meter waves outside in the bay.

The equipment held, more or less. Already the pre-worlds offered broken fittings and a torn spinnaker. We were soon forced to make some last minute improvements here and there to cope with the weather. But, when the real Worlds started most of the weak points were dealt with by the competent crew and their coach. At the end of the week we had started and completed all races, with no DNS's, DNF's nor BDF's under extreme conditions. We had given our very best and ended up as the proud over all defenders of place 34 (of 42) in a World Championship. There were of course a host of extremely competent sailors in front of us, but we had in fact some very fine crews behind us as well! This was a fantastic adventure that calls for more! If it was possible to go from zero to 34 in Travemunde with very little training, what is possible in Bergen, 2015?

As remembered by the helmswoman of SWE 2, Marina Backer Skaar in Stockholm Sweden, January 2015

JUST A MOMENT...

2014 is coming to an end, as I write these lines.

Depending on where you were this summer, one speaks of a very wet summer and another from a very dry summer. Where it is called wet summer, it is meant primarily the month of July, which was, for example, on the Baltic Sea, where the World Championship took place, very sunny and warm with 5-7 Beaufort, nobody could complain about a lack of wind, but in Switzerland it was raining a lot.

But let us start at the beginning of the year.

After the AGM in Beinwil, the Flottenhöcks were held in Zurich, Thun and at Lake Hallwil. That will be the same in 2015 and it would be nice to meet you there. We welcome all Yngling sailors, the sporty and also the sailors who were not so active in recent years. All new members are welcome to these events.

At the beginning of April, the season started on the water with a training weekend at RCO. Thank you Flavia for the organisation of this event, where we had twice as many participants as last year. A week later, the regatta was at RCO.

In Riva del Garda, you could prepare with professional training for the European Championships. For this reason 6 boats crossed the Alps. For the folks back home from Lake Zurich, training under the direction of Peter Muller and Heini Weber took place on May 1. Thank you for coaching the 10 boats. The Yngling competed in the Tuesday training on Lake Zurich, the 7 o'clock races SCE Lake Zurich and the SCH on Hallwilersee.

With 14 Ynglings at Port au Böju and 18 Ynglings at the ZSC, the regatta season goes on. Then the Jungfrau-Trophy by the TYC and the Ladies Cup were held on Lake Thun.

The boats SUI 458, SUI 464, SUI 398 and SUI 451 participated in the Pre-Worlds and the World Championship in Travemünde. SWE 55 sailed well in the World Championship with Swiss crew. The event took place on the occasion of the 125th Travemünde Week and it was a huge festival which attracted about 1 million visitors. These visitors came not only because of the Yngling sailors, but also to join other sailors or visit and listen to a concert or watch the nightly fireworks.

Everything about this event worked, but then the hauling crane stopped working at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Since I did not want to haul out on Sunday morning at 5 o'clock, I asked for a solution. By cooling the drum of the crane with water the crane started again. 10 boats could be hauled out of the water that evening.

At the Summer Regatta at TYC, 6 boats started. 2 boats traveled to the Achensee, where the Tyrolean Championship was sailed at 1400 meters above sea level. In addition to thunderstorms and torrential rain, you could also see the mountain landscape in bright sunlight and enjoy 3 Beaufort. The weather can change very quickly in the mountains.

At ZYC the Old Fashion Race started with 9 boats and 11 boats sailed the Zurich Ladies Cup in the Yngling. At the regatta in Thalwil there was no start for the 12 Ynglings because of lack of wind.

At the Swiss Championships in Steckborn, 19 Ynglings sailed in 8 runs. Again, the weather changed often, but the on-water and the land-organisation with the Beizli-Team had the situation under control. It was a great event and was followed by others.

3 Swiss Ynglings were transported by trailer to the River Danube to sail the Austrian National Championship in Traismauer. In addition to the normal tactics, we now had flow and current to take into account, which, for lake-sailors was quite strong. With 20 boats participating, the Swiss placed 13, 10 and 7.

At the end of the season were the regattas in Spiez in YCSp, in Zurich at ZYC and Herbsthöck the SCH in Beinwil with the Raclette.

That was 2014, what will 2015 bring us?

Again, social and dining at the Flottenhöcks, racing at the training courses and regattas, adventures on the trip to the World Championship, which takes place at the Yacht Club in Askøy in the Askøy Sail Sports Center, near Bergen in Norway. Southern flair at the SwissMasters in Lugano and the European Championship at Riva on Lake Garda. Information at the exhibition SuisseNautic in Bern. You can also read about the annual program on our website: Yngling.ch where additions and changes are published on the home page.

I wish everyone an exciting and eventful season in 2015.

6 SWISS BOATS PARTICIPATED IN LAKE GARDA

2014 NORTH AMERICAN YNGLING
CHAMPIONSHIP, ALPENA, MICHIGAN
AUGUST 7-10

Nineteen Yngling “families” from across the country and Canada gathered in Alpena, Michigan August 7th-10th for the 35th North American Yngling Championship. Regatta Chairwoman, Karen Upham, promised fair sailing under fair skies with fair winds on Thunder Bay and delivered all as well as great parties to renew friendships.

Day 1 started off with a rowing race for the Leslie Friendship Trophy in a traditional Mackinac Boat while the race committee waited for the wind to pick up. The Sakonnet team bested Alpena and Minnetonka while the crowd cheered. Despite the delay 3 races were sailed in a gradually increasing sea breeze.

The day two playbook was the same as day one and the teams celebrated at the NOAA Thunder Bay Maritime Heritage Center with fine food and drink glad that stories that the museum told of shipwrecks were of the distant past and not the day’s racing.

As the top five places were still up for grabs all were eager for Sunday’s last race and a chance to improve. Again the wind stayed too light to race until the sea breeze started and with expert timing Regatta PROs, David and Carol Gross, got the last race off with less than a minute to spare.

Newcomer to the Yngling, Jens Hovgaard from Toronto, Canada finished first sailing with Kevin Gallagher and John Ingalls. Bruce Chafee, Melody Badgett and Cushing Anderson finished second. Steve Wilson improved his position to 3rd with niece, Erin, and Kevin Van Wagner. Rounding out the top five was Mark Upham sailing with Ben Diamond and Phil Hartmeyer and Joe Jacquemin sailing with his dad, Walt, and Aaron Diamond. Jessica Resnick, Parker Wedge and Cayman Nelson won the Alpena Cup for the highest finishing youth team.

We look forward to seeing everyone again at the 2015 North American Yngling Championships in Okoboji, Iowa Next August 6th-9th.

ABOVE: THE FACILITY ALLOWED FOR MOST EQUIPMENT CHECKS TO BE MADE UNDER COVER

BELOW: THE MEASUREMENT TEAM IN TRAVEMUNDE

Measuring over the three and half days generally proceeded smoothly. The facilities were under cover except for weighing of the boats and were close to the moorings. This was the first year tip weight stickers were applied and it was well received by the competitors.

There were 41 boats measured and one general notice issued on the 20th July, 2014 to clarify the forestay adjustment fitting. The worlds were part of the large sailing event which included 18 separate classes.

Christian Dylla carried out sail measurement and mentored our new member Felix Schneider with an introduction into sail measuring, Felix also carried out rig measurement. Lars Backer did an excellent job with equipment and safety and was ably supported with local helpers. The organising committee provided excellent support at every level which resulted in a great event.
